PUZZLE PARTY!

Back and Forth

Don't want to sit in the house? Let's go to the backyard, where we can run back and forth and skip around! In this small crossword, "Back and Forth" answers will wind their way through the grid, starting in the upper left corner and ending in the lower left. Down answers are all five letters long. Each answer will be written into a different column (you'll have to figure out where each one goes), and each answer will skip a space in the column in which it's entered. The six letters that are used only in the Back and Forth entries will spell out your answer from left to right. (With thanks to Patrick Berry.)
